Background

Company Overview

Anexinet, an award winning systems integrator and technology management company, enables mid-size and Fortune 1000 clients to optimize the value of their IT investments for improving performance and operational processes. Serving businesses, associations and government agencies, Anexinet recommends, designs, delivers and supports systems integration with leading technology partners.

An innovator for aligning IT with business goals, Anexinet protects project investments with accountability backed by PMP®/PMI® certified consultants, industry best practices, Near-Site® Development Centers and proprietary delivery models proven in successful client engagements.

Founded in 2000, Anexinet has succeeded with steadfast loyalty to its charter mission: "To deliver real value by integrating useful technology in a timely fashion at a fair price."

Anexinet's founders and management team combine significant experience in building successful technology companies, developing effective business solutions and managing strategic technology projects to lead a company—and a culture—that is flexible, open, and passionate about client results.

Delivering Real Value

Anexinet automates business processes to improve operational performance, competitive advantages, and IT value with qualitative and quantitative return on investment. Solutions leverage the domain expertise of experienced consultants and business professionals, based on a proven delivery model built on more than 20 years of industry best practices.

Industry Recognition

Anexinet has been recognized with numerous technology and business awards, including VAR500, Philadelphia 100®, Deloitte Technology Fast 50 and Inc 5000 recognition as one of the region's fastest growing privately held companies. Anexinet president Diego Calderin was named 2005 Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year in the Emerging Business category for the Greater Philadelphia and Central Pennsylvania region. ### Solutions Delivery Approach

Interrelated innovations define Anexinet's thought leadership in solutions delivery:

Near-Site® Development Centers. Anexinet Near-Site® Development Centers, a unique component of the delivery model, enable project teams to design, develop and test solutions within minutes of a client's location, and without disrupting a client's current systems and organization.

S.A.F.E-T<sup>2</sup>® Delivery Model. Anexinet's exclusive S.A.F.E-T<sup>2</sup>® delivery model applies more than 20 years of collective best practices to rapidly design, develop and implement solutions. S.A.F.E-T<sup>2</sup> is based on PMI® standards and incremental life cycle development that enable project teams to consistently provide high quality, on-time deliverables—regardless of application, industry, or platform.

PMP®/PMI® Certified Consultants. Anexinet requires its project managers and consultants to be PMP® trained and certified (Project Management Professional) by the Project Management Institute (PMI®). All follow Anexinet's automated Program Management Office (PMO) to provide consolidated real-time enterprise project management of each solution—from planning to delivery. This approach ensures solutions are on track, within budget, and aligned with client objectives.

Innovation Centers. Anexinet Innovation Centers are groups of collaborative research and development teams focused on evaluating emerging technologies and industry trends. Anexinet continues to produce solution accelerators to maximize client value and provide a faster, more substantial, return on investment, as well as to enhance the next generation of solution offerings.

Strategic Partners. Anexinet has reached premier status with top technology companies for consulting services, product resale and training—including HP, Microsoft, Oracle, Citrix, VMware, Symantec, Metastorm and EMC. Anexinet combines products and services to deliver the best solution for reducing operational costs and improving business performance.
